THE CHILOCCOAN is published at Chillico Indian School by the students of the Yearbook and Printing classes. Arrangements, drawings and designs were done by students and staff consultants. Class pictures were made by Marquise Studios, Enid, Oklahoma. Students are credited with many of the other pictures along with staff consultants. All students, both Printing and Yearbook, are hailed for outstanding effort.

Introduction

This year's Chiloccoan is dedicated to the Superintendent, Mr. Jimmy Baker, who, we feel, has done much to help us back to "an even keel." All of this is transpiring on a very beautiful campus; hence this year's theme: "Chilocco, the Beautiful". Seniors of '75 have looked forward to this year; we have in the main, worked hard in what we have undertaken during our years here. But the thing we have liked the most of all was working together among our own people and having fun doing it. The happiness encountered here will linger on.

Working together to reach our goals, we had to fulfill the following requirements for graduating:

Eighteen (18) units including 1 unit of American History, 1 unit of mathematics, 1 unit of laboratory science, ½ unit of Oklahoma history (Students moving to Oklahoma from another state and enrolling in a senior high school, grades 10, 11, and 12, may graduate without Oklahoma history if the course is not taught in the senior high school, or if the student is unable to take the course due to the scheduling of classes). Four units of English are required.

The fourth year of English may be met by the completion of any language arts course taught by a language arts teacher on the twelve-year level. One unit of Physical Education is required.

Thirteen and one-half units of the eighteen units required for graduation shall be earned in grades 10, 11, and 12.

Not to exceed a total of 2 units may be submitted from either of the following courses or a combination of any of the following courses which are scheduled in the same manner as the other courses: Physical Education, competitive athletics, Audio-visual Education, "Newspaper staff," Yearbook staff or other courses approved by the Director of Learning.
CHILOCCO INDIAN INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL (as it was originally named) was established in 1884 on the beautiful green prairie lands of Central Oklahoma. James M. Haworth was the first superintendent of this institution.

During its early years the school's lands produced the principal crops of wheat, corn, oats, broom corn, sorghum, millet, alfalfa, and prairie hay. Large orchards and vineyards yielded abundant crops of fruit. Nurseries and gardens also yielded fine vegetables and afforded students knowledge and skill in the field of agriculture. At one time the dairy produced over 10,000 gallons of milk each quarter year.

Principal courses of instruction and practical experiences in such subjects as shoemaking, shoe repair, leathercraftsmanship, dairying, stock-raising that included fine poultry, hogs, cattle, horses, and sheep. At one time over 1000 head of cattle roamed the lush green pastures of the 8640 acres allotted for the purpose of educating Indian youths.

Other vocations included quarrying, automobile mechanics, blacksmithing (the forerunner of modern welding courses), dry cleaning and laundry operation, nursing, cafe operation, printing, plumbing and steamfitting, dressmaking, broommaking, electrical engineering, carpentry and allied forms of woodworking (such as cabinetry), housekeeping, tailoring, painting and paperhanging, along with other vocational pursuits.

Streamlined modern living with advances in technology has eliminated many of these vocational pursuits from the school curricula. Today, academic subjects are emphasized, with the aim of preparing today's Indian youth for a modern way of life. Heavy equipment operations, along with welding, agricultural pursuits, dry cleaning, automobile mechanics, automotive body repair, electrical courses, woodworking, printing, and other vocational subjects vie for a place alongside such academic subjects.
as bookkeeping, chemical and biological sciences, typing, shorthand, accounting, modern languages, etc. Along with building healthy vigorous minds, the aim of the school is to develop strong healthy bodies. Hence, athletics still functions strongly in the curricular structure.

Today's school complex is composed of a United States post-office, power and maintenance facilities section, an independent water and waste disposal system, numerous academic and vocational class buildings, residential homes, apartment buildings, commodious dormitories, along with heavy agricultural machinery. In all, approximately ninety-five buildings are utilized.

Streamlining and modernization of curricular courses continue apace. Being planned and in various stages of preparation, a vast program of new construction and renovation is presently attracting much interest. This all envisions a budget of well over ten million dollars to provide a better program for tomorrow's Indian youth.

Last, but not of lesser importance in interest, is the fact that CHILOCCO INDIAN SCHOOL points with pride to many graduates holding positions of prominence in our American society, making contributions to our nation of inestimable value. Many have served admirably in the military forces of our nation in crucial combat, some having sacrificed the ultimate for the country they loved.

Elsewhere in this yearbook the reader will find a full page "layout" of new buildings and renovations now contemplated for the future.
On these next two pages 1975 Yearbook staff members depict layouts of CHILLOCCO NOW and CHILLOCCO FUTURE. The changes can reflect a brighter tomorrow. But wood, concrete, steel, plastic, alone, can never guarantee that. We also hope for a total reliance on The Great Spirit whom our forefathers worshipped. With His control our CHILLOCCO THE BEAUTIFUL can become more beautiful.

CHEERLEADERS '74-'75
Alden Wells: "Wait! I don't want them to see my delicate body, please don't take my picture now!"

Babygirl Russelle watches the guys go by as Rose Posey drops her letter and says, "Who's that dude!"
Robert Solis appears to be pondering, "Who is Jane flirting with now?"

Les McComber and Brian Bucktooth can't believe that this is really G.I. Chow!

Joey Goodvoice dreams about being football champion of Chilocco!
Enos Primeaux again!! That guy gets in all the action!

Jackson & Terralba (Staff) really ham it up at the Christmas show.

Walt Fields and Jeff Pack... working?!?! Don't believe it.

Dennis Walden wataxes the nurse. "Do it right!!!"

"Hey, Fella, what cell block in that building are you in?"

Come on, gals, and quit gossiping. We got a game to play!
As Jackie Page bites her nails, Lucinda White-tail yells at Jennie Biggoose, and Barbara Rhodd gets mad at all of them.

Hey, Bunch! Get your finger out of my taco!

I'd never seen a better poster until I went to Jr. & Sr. Carnival!
While truckin' around our school, we found Corbett Walking-sky at the clinic like this!

Hey! Her Pete's sake, Doc, be careful!!

I got a heavy date tonight. Don't ruin my smoochin' equipment!

Could you believe Jody boning up for a test? Looks like a comic book!

Enos Primeaux worries about the shot the nurse will be administering.

We don't know if Mary is in pain or grinning about Yea! !!!!

While this lonesome group left at Christmas try to cheer themselves up.
After the game is over and almost everyone is gone — how sad it seems.

Hey, Dan Osceola, who you dreamin' about?

David Sage workin' hard at a new picnic bench.

Can you feature the "super" eatin'
the silverware 'cause chow is slow?
Oh! Wow! Maggie and his masterpieces!

Babygirl, why did you make Chink cry?

Tona, give the rat a chance!

The Banana Splits tour Chilcoo.

Will the real fly please step out?

In this '75 CHILOCCOAN we have looked over aspects of Chilocco Indian School as it now exists. We have made brief reference to its past and some reference to its future.

By the Grace of The Great Spirit we look forward to the brighter future of an institution referred to as the Architectural Artist's Mockup Concept of Future Chilocco, the Beautiful.
